A Handbook for Collaboration
Fall 2012

To All Staff, Faculty, and Students of Gavilan College

Welcome to Shared Governance! You may have heard that colleges have a form of decision-making unlike any other institution. Perhaps you have wondered how it works, or how you can make your voice heard at Gavilan College.

The intent of this publication is to clarify the decision-making and planning processes at Gavilan College and to invite you to be involved. The Gavilan College Shared Governance Manual describes the procedures we have developed to implement Board Policies 2510

(Participating in Local Decision-Making) and 3250 (Institutional Planning).

It describes key campus bodies, their responsibilities, and their relationships with each other. This guide also describes how individuals are involved in the various processes that lead to decisions and describes the focus of authority, responsibility, and accountability for decisions made. It includes definitions of decision-making terminology as defined and prescribed by law, regulation, agreements and good practices that are simply the dictates of good common sense.

Effective decision-making depends upon the intelligent communications of needs by and to those who are charged with making decisions and those who are accountable for results. Broad-based discussion ensures that those who are affected by decisions are able to provide their unique perspectives – which leads to better decisions and effective implementation of those decisions. Dedication and good faith efforts on the part of decision-makers are critical to understanding the issues and ensuring that decisions made are in the best interest of the college and student learning.

This manual provides a road map of how the college functions – from understandable organizational charts to clear descriptions of governance relationships. The goal is to encourage more participation in our processes so we can more effectively support student success.

We invite you to be a part of participatory governance at Gavilan College through committee membership, group representation, or completion of the annual governance survey. Your perspective is unique and your voice is important. Speak up through the governance process!

WHAT IS SHARED GOVERNANCE AND WHY SHOULD I BE INVOLVED?

“Shared” governance has come to connote two complementary, and sometimes, overlapping concepts – giving various groups of people a share in key decision-making processes, often through elected representation – and allowing certain groups to exercise primary responsibility for specific areas of decision making.

In its simplest form, shared governance is shared decision-making based on the principles of partnership, equity, accountability, and ownership at the point of service. This management process model empowers all members of Gavilan College to have a voice in decision-making, thus, encouraging diverse and creative input that will help advance our stake in the success of the organization.

Here's how the principles are defined:

- Partnership

Links students, staff, and faculty along all points in our system; a collaborative relationship among all stakeholders required for professional empowerment. Partnership is essential to building relationships, involves all staff members in decisions and processes, implies that each member has a key role in fulfilling the mission and purpose of the organization, and is critical to the college's effectiveness

- Equity

The best method for integrating staff roles and relationships into structures and processes to achieve positive student outcomes. Equity maintains a focus on services; is the foundation and measure of value; and says that no one role is more important than any other. Although equity does not equal equality in terms of scope of practices, knowledge, authority, or responsibility, it does mean that each team member is essential to providing safe and effective services for students and the communities the district serves.

- Accountability

A willingness to invest in decision-making and express ownership in those decisions. Accountability is the core of shared governance and is often used interchangeably with responsibility. It supports partnerships and is secured as all stakeholder groups on campus produce positive outcomes.

- Ownership

Recognition and acceptance of the importance of everyone's work and of the fact that Gavilan's success is bound to how well individual staff members perform their jobs. To enable all team members to participate, ownership designates where work is done and by whom. It requires all staff members to commit to contributing something: to own what they contribute, and to participate in devising purposes for the work.

Decision-making Philosophy

The focus of our mission is student learning. As indicated in our values, the college needs the active participation of the entire campus community to effectively accomplish its mission. Our philosophy is that diverse perspectives make us stronger and lead to better decisions. This shared involvement:

- Does not always imply agreement
- Does not always require the same level of involvement by all participants at all times; and
- Places the ultimate responsibility for decisions with the President and the Board of Trustees.

Gavilan College's organizational functioning is based on our mission, institutional values, strategic direction, and on the development of effective relationships and teamwork between administrators, faculty, staff, and students. This belief system fosters a climate in which participation and input is routinely provided to and accepted by those responsible for making decisions.

Characteristics of Effective Decision-making

We believe that an effective decision-making structure at Gavilan College must have the following characteristics:

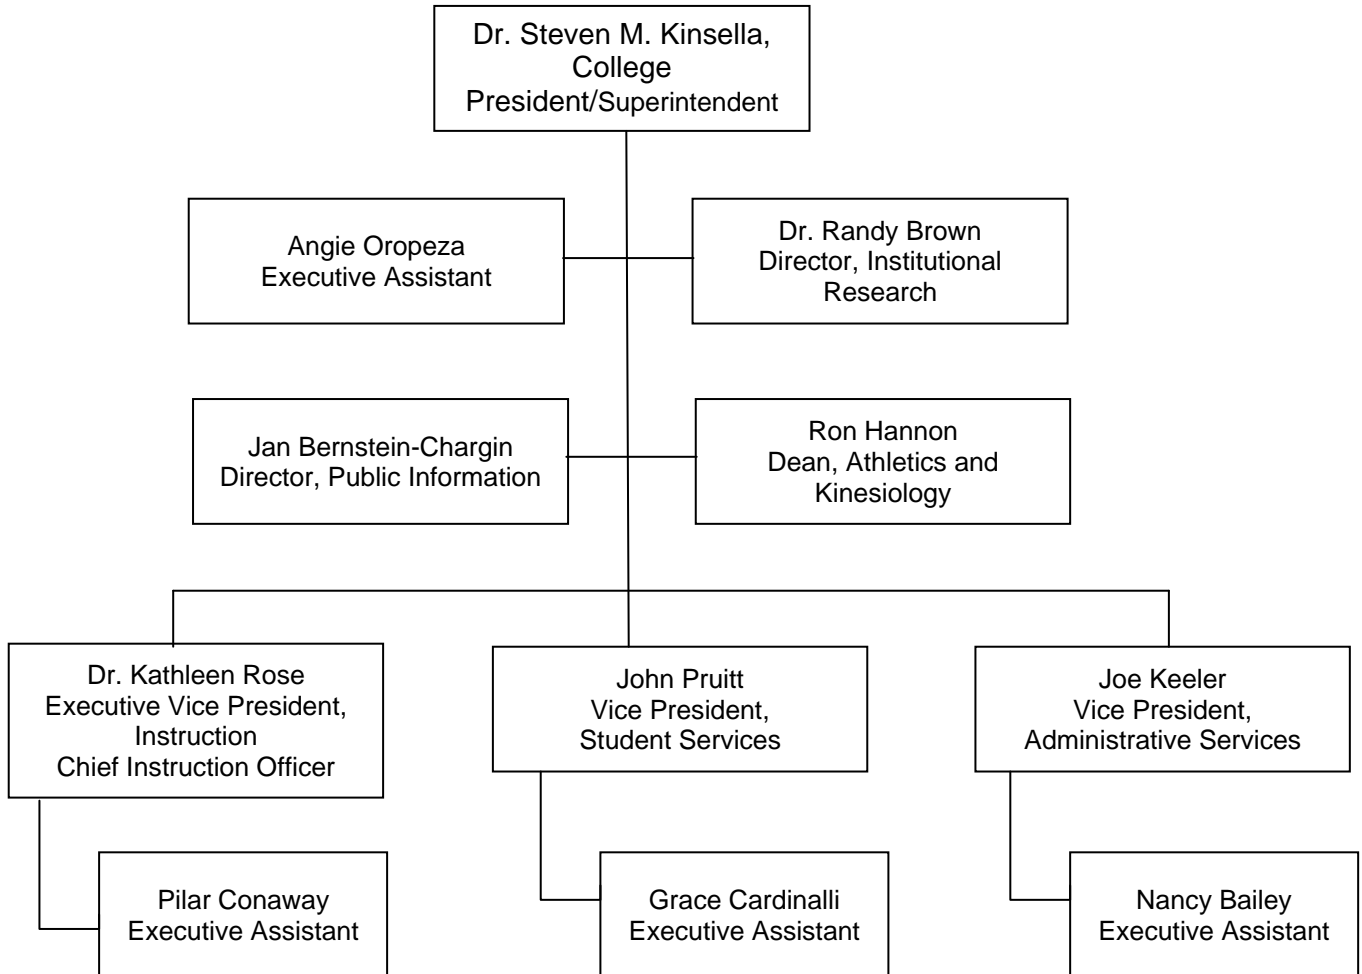

- It focuses the entire college on student learning;
- It provides the members of all campus constituencies (students, faculty, administration, classified staff) the ability to be involved, through their representative, in the governance and future direction of the college;
- It facilitates the coordination of the work of the various groups to ensure that we collectively make the best decisions;
- It is clearly understood and provides clear pathways for involvement for the entire campus community;
- It ensures that everyone identifies with the mission of the college and assists in the professional growth of our faculty, staff, and students;
- It uses information from faculty, staff, students, and the community to drive the college's strategic direction;
- It achieves an appropriate balance between decentralized and centralized decision-making;
- It fosters continued organizational improvement by evaluating outcomes and making changes to our structures and processes as needed;
- It is flexible and responsive – providing the college with the ability to develop and implement contingency plans to adjust to changing environments and to take advantage of unexpected opportunities;
- It ensures that the college remains responsive to community needs and accountable for its outcomes
- It empowers decision-making at the levels held accountable for the outcomes of those decisions.

SECTION 3

ORGANIZATIONAL CHARTS

The college administrative organization structure provides the vehicle for effective communication and collaborative, the implementation of decisions, and the support structure for the four areas of campus.

SECTION 4 REQUIREMENTS AND KEY STAKE HOLDERS

Governance Relationships

The decision-making processes at Gavilan College are designed in accordance with AB 1725. They are intended to ensure that decisions are well-informed, support the effective and efficient function of the college, are made by those who are accountable for the results, and with the participation of those who can best contribute to their implementation. The ultimate objective is to support student learning.

There are four complementary processes which function within the college:

- The general participatory governance process which reviews, develops, and recommends policies, procedures and priorities for the college to the Superintendent/President and the Board of Trustees.
- The academic participatory governance process which provides faculty recommendations to the Superintendent/President with respect to academic and professional matters (known as the 10+1)
- The program planning, budgeting, program review and assessment/evaluation processes which defines how the college gains input into the development of its strategic direction, continuous improvement, and the allocation of resources.
- The administrative/operational processes which deal with the day-to-day functioning of the college within established policies and procedures.

In addition to these processes, there are also collective bargaining processes which deal with contractual matters and working conditions as defined by the collective bargaining law. These processes are outside of governance and are not addressed in this publication.

The Law

The board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall establish “minimum standards” and local governing boards shall establish procedures “not inconsistent” with those minimum standards to ensure:

- Faculty, staff, and students have the right to participate effectively in district and college governance; and
- The right of academic senates to assume primary responsibility for making recommendations in the areas of curriculum and academic standards. (Education Code Sections 70901 and 70902)

In terms of institutional governance and decision-making, AB 1725 states in Section 4 paragraph (o) that:

“Any set of laws, regulation, directive, or guidelines regarding community college faculty and administrator qualifications, evaluation, hiring, or retention should promote the efforts of local community colleges to ensure that their faculty and administrative consists of:

- (1) Teachers who can teach and who are experts in the subject matter of their curriculum.*
- (2) Counselors, librarians, and other instructional and student service faculty who can foster college effectiveness and who are experts in the subject matter of their specialty.*
- (3) Administrators who can lead, organize, plan, and supervise; who understand the needs of faculty and the learning process; and who value institutional governance based upon a genuine sharing of responsibility with faculty colleagues.”*

Accreditation and Shared Governance

Along with the legal aspects of the shared governance process, accreditation standards also provide expectations for involving the broader campus community in the decision-making and continuous improvement process. These standards and expectations are outlined in Standard IV: Leadership and Governance of the WASC Accreditation Standards as follows:

Standard IV: Leadership and Governance

The institution recognizes and utilizes the contributions of leadership throughout the organization for continuous improvement of the institution. Governance roles are designed to facilitate decisions that support student learning programs and services and improve institutional effectiveness, while acknowledging the designated responsibilities of the governing board and the chief administrator.

A. Decision-making Roles and Processes

The institution recognizes that ethical and effective leadership throughout the organization enables the institution to identify institutional values, set and achieve goals, learn and improve.

1. Institutional leaders create an environment for empowerment, innovation, and institutional excellence. They encourage staff, faculty, administrators, and students, no matter what their official titles, to take initiative in improving the practices, programs, and services in which they are involved. When ideas for improvement have policy or significant institution-wide implications, systematic participative processes are used to assure effective discussion, planning, and implementation.
2. The institution establishes and implements a written policy providing for faculty, staff, administrator, and student participation in decision-making processes. The policy specifies the manner in which individuals bring forward ideas from their constituencies and work together on appropriate policy, planning, and special-purpose bodies.
  - a. Faculty and administrators have a substantive and clearly defined role in institutional governance and exercise a substantial voice in institutional policies, planning and budget that relate to their areas of responsibility and expertise. Students and staff also have established mechanisms or organizations for providing input into institutional decisions.
  - b. The institution relies on faculty, its academic senate or other appropriate faculty structures, the curriculum committee, and academic administrators for recommendations about student learning programs and services.
3. Through established governance structures, processes, and practices, the governing board, administrators, faculty, staff, and students work together for the good of the institution. These processes facilitate discussion of ideas and effective communication among the institution's constituencies.
4. The institution advocates and demonstrates honesty and integrity in its relationships with external agencies. It agrees to comply with Accrediting Commission standards, policies, and guidelines, and Commission requirements for public disclosure, self study, and other reports, team visits, and prior approval of substantive changes. The institution moves expeditiously to respond to recommendations made by the Commission.
5. The role of leadership and the institution's governance and decision-making structures and processes are regularly evaluated to assure their integrity and effectiveness. The institution widely communicates the results of these evaluations and uses them as the basis for improvement.

Board and Administrative Organization

In addition to the leadership of individuals and constituencies, institutions recognize the designated responsibilities of the governing board for setting policies and of the chief administrator for the effective operation of the institution. Multi-college districts/systems clearly define the organizational roles of the district/system and the colleges.

1. The institution has a governing board that is responsible for establishing policies to assure the quality, integrity, and effectiveness of the student learning programs and services and the financial stability of the institution. The governing board adheres to a clearly defined policy for selecting and evaluating the chief administrator for the college or the district/system.
  - a. The governing board is an independent policy-making body that reflects the public interest in board activities and decisions. Once the board reaches a decision, it acts as a whole. It advocates for and defends the institution and protects it from undue influence or pressure.
  - b. The governing board establishes policies consistent with the mission statement to ensure the quality, integrity, and improvement of student learning programs and services and the resources necessary to support them.
  - c. The governing board has ultimate responsibility for educational quality, legal matters, and financial integrity.
  - d. The institution or the governing board publishes the board bylaws and policies specifying the board's size, duties, responsibilities, structure, and operating procedures.
  - e. The governing board acts in a manner consistent with its policies and bylaws. The board regularly evaluates its policies and practices and revises them as necessary.
  - f. The governing board has a program for board development and new member orientation. It has a mechanism for providing for continuity of board membership and staggered terms of office.
  - g. The governing board's self-evaluation processes for assessing board performance are clearly defined, implemented, and published in its policies and bylaws.
  - h. The governing board has a code of ethics that includes a clearly defined policy for dealing with the behavior that violates its code.
  - i. The governing board is informed about and involved in the accreditation process.
  - j. The governing board has the responsibility for selecting and evaluating the district/system chief administrator (most often known as the chancellor) in a multi-college district/system or the college chief administrator (most often known as the president) in the case of a single college. The governing board delegates full responsibility and authority to him/her to implement and administer board policies without board interference and holds him/her accountable for the operation of the district/system or college, respectively.

In multi-college districts/systems, the governing board establishes a clearly defined policy for selecting and evaluating the presidents of the colleges.
2. The president has primary responsibility for the quality of the institution he/she leads. He/she provides effective leadership in planning, organizing, budgeting, selecting and developing personnel, and assessing institutional effectiveness.

- a. The president plans, oversees, and evaluates an administrative structure organized and staffed to reflect the institution's purposes, size, and complexity. He/she delegates authority to administrators and others consistent with their responsibilities, as appropriate.
- b. The president guides institutional improvement of the teaching and learning environment by the following:
  - Establishing a collegial process that sets values, goals and priorities;
  - Ensuring that evaluation and planning rely on high quality research and analysis on external and internal conditions;
  - Ensuring that educational planning is integrated with resource planning and distribution to achieve student learning outcomes; and
  - Establishing procedures to evaluate overall institutional planning and implementation efforts.
- c. The president assures that implementation of statutes, regulations, and governing board policies and assures that institutional practices are consistent with institutional mission and policies.
- d. The president effectively controls budget and expenditures.
- e. The president works and communicates effectively with the communities served by the institution.

The Board of Trustees

It is understood by all segments of the college community that the Board of Trustees, as elected representatives of the community, is the final voice in the District (subject to the laws and appropriate regulations of the State Legislature and the Chancellor's Office). As a matter of professional respect, and as outlined in AB 1725, the Board will, if it rejects or modifies a recommendation proposed by the participatory governance procedure, return to the participatory governance committee(s) its objections to the proposal. It does this through its designee – the Superintendent/President.

The Superintendent/President

The Superintendent/President is the official designee of the Board, and is directly responsible to the Board. All recommendations developed through the participatory governance processes will be sent to the Board through the Superintendent/President.

The Superintendent/President has the right to reject or modify any participatory governance decision. However, in the spirit of professionalism and collegiality, the Superintendent/President informs the respective group(s)/Committee(s) of his/her objections (if any) to their recommendations. All constituent groups (faculty, classified, supervisors/confidentials, administrators, students) retain the right to present their concerns with the Superintendent/President's decision to the Board of Trustees if a common consensus is not achieved.

The Academic Senate

The Academic Senate, as the representatives of the faculty, makes recommendations to the administration of the College and the Board with respect to the following academic and professional matters:

1. Curriculum including establishing prerequisites and placing courses within disciplines;
2. Degree and certificate requirements;
3. Grading policies;
4. Educational program development;
5. Standards of policies regarding student preparation and success;
6. District and college governance structures related to faculty roles;

7. Faculty roles in the accreditation process, including self-study and annual reports;
8. Policies for faculty professional development;
9. Processes for program review;
10. Processes for institutional plans and budget development;
11. Other academic and professional matters as mutually agreed between the governing board and Academic Senate.

According to Title 5 § 53203 the governing board is required to adopt policies for appropriate delegation of authority and responsibility to its academic senate. These policies must, at a minimum, provide that the board, or its designees, consult collegially with the academic senate when adopting policies and procedures on academic and professional matters. "Consult collegially" is defined by Title 5 § 53200 to mean:

- 1) Relying primarily upon the advice and judgment of the academic senate; or
- 2) Reaching mutual agreement between the governing board/designee and representatives of the academic senate.

According to Board Policy 2515, the Gavilan Joint Community College district Board's intent is to reach mutual agreement with the Academic Senate on academic and professional matters through its designee (the Superintendent/President). However, at its sole discretion, the Board retains the right to "rely primarily upon the advice and judgment of the Academic Senate if it so chooses."

The Academic Senate is also responsible for selecting faculty representatives for committees. The Academic Senate reviews and responds to proposed changes to college policies and procedures recommended by college groups, committees, and task forces and makes appropriate decisions regarding its internal operation consistent with its approved constitution and bylaws.

Educational Administrators

While the president, as the Board's designee, must consult collegially, as described above, with Academic Senate in academic and educational matters (10+1), this requirement does not imply exclusivity. As indicated in AB 1725, educational administrators "lead, plan and supervise" maintain and nurture shared responsibility in the academic arena. Collegiality is a reciprocal obligation that is central to Gavilan College decision-making.

Staff

According to Title 5 §51023.5, the governing board is required to adopt policies and procedures that provide staff opportunity to participate effectively in district and college governance. This is defined as participation in the formulation and development of policies and procedures, and processes for jointly developing recommendations that have or will have a significant effect on staff. Additionally, the board shall not take action on matters significantly affecting staff until the recommendations and opinions of staff are given every reasonable consideration.

Associated Student Body (ASB)

The purpose of the Gavilan College Associated Student Body is to effectively represent student needs, keep students informed of student related issues, and promote cultural, social, and leadership opportunities for all students.

According to Title 5 §51023.7, the governing board is required to adopt policies and procedures that provide students opportunity to participate effectively in district and college governance. This participation is defined as the formulation and development of policies and procedures and processes for jointly developing recommendations that have, or will have, a significant effect on students. Additionally, the Board shall not take action on a matter having a significant effect on students until the recommendations and positions by students are given every reasonable consideration.

The selection of students to serve on district committees or task forces shall be made after consultation with the Associated Student Body.

The policies and procedures that have a “significant effect on students” include:

1. Grading polices
2. Codes of student conduct
3. Academic disciplinary policies
4. Curriculum development
5. Courses or programs which should be initiated or discontinued
6. Processes for institutional planning and budget development
7. Standards and policies regarding student preparation and success
8. Student services planning and development
9. Student fees within the authority of the district to adopt, and
10. Any other district and college policy, procedure or related matter that the district governing board determines will have a significant effect on students.

SECTION 5 HOW TO GET INVOLVED

College Groups and Committees

There are a variety of groups and committees that provide pathways for participation in college governance and processes. These include the ongoing groups and committees listed below and ad hoc groups that are formed to address specific issues and then dissolved.

Types of Groups

Many terms are used to define a group or committee. Often these terms delineate the type of work a group is asked to accomplish.

Group

This is defined as a number of persons gathered together to form a recognizable unit, aggregation or band. At the college, this term is generally used to describe a number of persons who are part of an organization based on affiliation or the selection of others of a similar affiliation (e.g. Constituency Group)

Committee

This is defined as a group of people chosen to consider some matter or function in a certain capacity. At the college, committees normally have an ongoing purpose and a formal structure. Sometimes this purpose is to coordinate the actions of a number of other committees.

Council

This is defined as:

1. A group that is called together for consultation, discussion advice, etc; or
2. A group of people chosen as an administrative, advisory, or legislative assembly.

At the college, councils normally have an ongoing purpose, a formal structure, and an area or college-wide coordinating function (e.g. Administrative Council or The Learning Council)

Division

This is defined as the group of people who report to a particular reporting chief administrator. For example, the people reporting to the Vice President of Student Services work in the Student Services Division.

Team

This is defined as a group of people working or playing together especially as one side in a contest. Teams are based on teamwork which is the subordination of individual interests to the unity and efficiency of the group. At the college, teams can be formed for an ongoing or temporary purpose and tend to be flexible, oriented on the task to be achieved, and less formal than a committee.

Task Force

This is a number of people called together to complete a temporary task that involves area or college – wide coordination.

Groups may also be assigned a particular role in the shared governance process or operations of the college. Some are formal and some are less formal.

Constituency Groups

These groups identify employees who participate because of common job assignments or professional orientations – Academic Senate, Administrators, Associated Student Body, Classified Employees, Supervisors/Confidentials/Managers.

Academic Senate Roles and Responsibilities

The powers, rights and responsibilities of Faculty Senates in California Community Colleges derive from the California Administrative Code (Title V, §53200 – 53205). The purpose of the Faculty Senate, according to that document, is to provide the faculty with a formal and effective procedure for participating in the formation of the district policies on academic and professional matters. (The Senate is charged with viewing professional matters from the perspective of the “educator” rather than “employee”.)

The Primary function of the Academic Senate is to serve as the elected representative of the faculty in making recommendations to the administration and the Board of Trustees with respect to academic and professional matters. (The Board establishes policy; the administration executes existing Board policy, the Senate makes recommendations on changing or establishing new policy.)

Thus, the role of the Gavilan Academic Senate is to participate effectively in the formation of college policy with respect to academic and professional matters. The Academic Senate has the following primary responsibilities:

1. To provide the faculty with formal voice in the initiation, development, and evaluation of District Educational Policy.
2. To present to the administration and Board of Trustees the written view and recommendations of the Senate and its committees regarding all academic and professional matters such as curriculum, faculty development and program review not covered in the Faculty Association contract.
3. To provide the full faculty with an open forum in which the express their views and recommendations on academic and professional matters.
4. To appoint all faculty to college-wide standing and ad hoc committees (except committees of the Faculty Association).
5. To appoint a delegate to the State Academic Senate who will forward to that body local faculty opinion on issues of state-wide concern.

Academic Senate Standing Committees include:

- Faculty of the Year
- Learning Council (Shared with Instruction and Student Services)
- Part-time College of Choice (PTCOC)
- Vision Committee
- Representatives from the Academic Senate serve on these college groups and committees:
  - ✓ Budget Committee
Provide representative to college-wide committee
  - ✓ Curriculum Committee
Sub-committee of the Senate
  - ✓ Faculty/Staff Development Committee
Sub-committee of the Senate

- ✓ Health, Safety, Facilities and Grounds Committee

- ✓ Institutional Effectiveness Committee (IEC)
Provide representatives to college-wide committee
- ✓ Learning Council
