Learning Strategies for Tutors

What are learning strategies?

- time-management skills
- memory and learning principles
- effective note-taking
- active reading
- stages of writing papers

What is your goal as a tutor?

- help students develop more helpful and effective learning strategies
    - completed through modeling successful learning strategies, exposing a more "advanced learners understanding of the material," and identifying tension between their goals and behaviors

Guiding Questions to Drive your Session

1. How do I model successful student habits?

2. How do I help students develop a system for managing their time to focus on completing assignments without unnecessary stress?

3. How do I help students make informed choices about how to study, take effective notes, best spend their time learning?

4. How do I help students develop a process for writing papers?